

COVID-19 Statement

VSGWL is following UK and Scottish Government and health professionals advice regarding the health and safety of our visitors, staff and volunteers regarding the Coronavirus pandemic.

As such, our staff will be working from home over the next couple of weeks and providing help and support as best we can. All existing volunteering appointments will be postponed and our team be in touch with individuals to discuss further. We will be reassessing the situation based on the latest health advice in the coming days.

We know the spread of Coronavirus is causing difficulty and concern across West Lothian. We know the influence of community spirit and the willingness of local people to help where they can.

We want to hear from individuals who can volunteer locally. You can contact us by:

email - vsg@vsgwl.org

phone - 07712 521850 (rather than our usual office number please)

Twitter - @VSGWL

We also want to highlight groups that can provide help and support or require volunteers. If there are other ways that we can help, just let us know.

Please look after yourself and others during this exceptionally difficult period.
